Cushman & Wakefield | Thalhimer Welcomes Senior Project Manager to Project Management Team

Addition of Veteran Project Manager Showcases Continued Specialization

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA, April 17, 2019 – Cushman & Wakefield | Thalhimer announced today that Mike Dawson has joined the firm as Senior Project Manager. In his new role, Dawson will be responsible for providing value-added tenant and landlord project services as well as additional capacity for project execution on the firm's managed and owned portfolio throughout Southern Virginia and South Carolina.

"Mike is a tremendous addition to our Project Management team, bringing a deep knowledge and understanding of the industry," said Lee Warfield, President & CEO of Cushman & Wakefield | Thalhimer. He is known for his award-winning customer service and ability to elevate our client experience, which will give us the capacity to reach for business opportunities on the highest level."

Dawson has over ten years' experience in commercial construction and project management, working for the last five years with Carr Properties in Washington, D.C. as a Senior Construction Manager. During his time with Carr Properties, Dawson managed over $30M in tenant improvement and capital projects, including American Society of Health-System Pharmacists (ASHP) in Bethesda, MD, and the main lobby and curtainwall replacement at 2001 Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, DC.

"I am honored to join the Cushman & Wakefield | Thalhimer team, which is highly regarded for its culture and position as one of the leading real estate firms in the industry," Dawson said. "This is a monumental opportunity to continue the success that the organization has had over the past several years."

Dawson is a graduate of Radford University, and resides in Richmond, Virginia.
