Through Thalhimer Gives, Cushman & Wakefield | Thalhimer Gives Back to Richmond-Area Healthcare Workers and First Responders

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA, May 19, 2020 – Cushman & Wakefield | Thalhimer is proud to partner with Richmond-area restaurants to provide lunches for area healthcare workers and first responders, including hospitals, fire departments and ambulance services, as well as law enforcement in the Richmond metropolitan area.

Thalhimer's Richmond Retail Group is coordinating this effort by nominating recipients, each month through the remainder of 2020, and partnering with area restaurants and delis to provide lunches to honor healthcare workers and first responders for their dedication and sacrifices on the frontlines of the COVID-19 crisis. On May 18th Thalhimer and Boychik's Deli provided 85 boxed lunches to Bon Secours Memorial Regional Medical Center in Mechanicsville. Boychik's Deli, a family owned and operated company, has been in business since 1990 with a location in Richmond's Short Pump area at 4024 Cox Road in Glen Allen.

In June, Thalhimer's Richmond Retail Group has selected Hunter Holmes McGuire VA Medical Center in Richmond.

"Our Richmond Retail Group is excited to give back to our healthcare workers and first responders during this challenging time while also supporting restaurants throughout our community who make Richmond the special place it is. This initiative is a win-win for all involved," Lee Warfield, President & CEO of Thalhimer.

James Ashby IV, Senior Vice President of the Retail Services Group comments, "Richmond healthcare workers and first responders are an extremely important part of our community. Our Richmond Retail Group looks forward to partnering with Richmond restaurants to show these healthcare workers and first responders how much we all appreciate their service and dedication."
