

Charlottesville Associates Volunteer with Building Goodness Foundation

A team of Charlottesville associates volunteered with Building Goodness Foundation at Camp Holiday Trails last week. They painted five large barn doors in much need of a refresh.

Building Goodness Foundation believes that well-designed, well-constructed, beautiful buildings create opportunities for children, families, and communities. They are a nonprofit organization that builds and renovates homes, schools, clinics, and community spaces for disadvantaged people, both locally and internationally.

Camp Holiday Trails creates a community that empowers children and teens with medical needs to thrive. Our Thalhimer team was happy to assist both of these worthwhile organizations.

Building Goodness Foundation building community and improving lives buildinggoodness.org

From left to right: Don Costa, Sean Mawyer, Richard Jones, Jayden Merica, Tearle Simsman, Jenny Stoner

From left to right: Sean Mawyer, Don Costa, Tearle Simsman, Jayden Merica, Richard Jones, Dominique Norman

