Work Experience

Jenny Stoner is a member of Thalhimer's Charlottesville, Virginia brokerage office where she focuses on leasing and sales of retail and office properties. A Charlottesville native, she is familiar with the unique regional market and leverages in-depth local knowledge and connections to serve both Landlords and Tenants in Charlottesville and surrounding markets. Prior to joining Thalhimer, Jenny completed a Masters Degree in Business & Management at Trinity College in Dublin, Ireland after spending many years in restaurant management and consulting. Jenny uses strong connections, extensive market knowledge, and superior customer service to deliver results for her clients.

Her background also includes two years (and 42 countries) of round-the-world work and travel which affords Jenny with unique experience and insight into how to work successfully across varied cultures and backgrounds.
