Work Experience

Jamie Scully has been active in the brokerage group in Fredericksburg since October of 2004, participating in: retail, office, and industrial leasing; investment and land sales; and retail and industrial development. Jamie has had a wide exposure to all aspects of sales, leasing, and development of retail, industrial, and office projects.

Jamie has completed the program for the professional designation of Certified Commercial Investment Member (CCIM). Prior to joining Cushman & Wakefield | Thalhimer (formerly Sullivan Properties), he graduated with both a Bachelor of Arts degree in Historic Preservation and a Bachelor of Sciences degree in Business Administration from Mary Washington College in 2004. Jamie received his Virginia Salesperson license in the spring of 2004. Currently, Jamie serves of the University of Mary Washington's College of Business Executive Advisory Board and the Fredericksburg Regional Military Affairs Council.

Previously, Jamie was the Chairman of the City's Architectural Review Board, a Board Member of Friends of the Rappahannock, a Board Member of the Central Virginia Housing Coalition, and Board Member of the Historic Fredericksburg Foundation, Inc.. In 2018 Jamie was recognized in the inaugural class of the Fredericksburg Chamber of Commerce's Top 10 Professionals Under 40. Jamie also participated in the Leadership in Fredericksburg program.

In Jamie's free time he enjoys everything outdoors, especially skiing, mountain biking and soccer. Jamie lives in Downtown Fredericksburg with his wife Jess Kujala and their three young children.
